

ALL HANDS SCORED
FOR THE STRIKECONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE
REPORT OF THEIR WORK.

General Managers' Association Is Condemned and the Methods of the Pullman Car Company Not Approved Of—President Is Upheld In His Action.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The United States government report on the great railway strike in connection with the Pullman trouble was made public yesterday. The report is addressed to President Cleveland and abounds in passages which will attract wide attention, particularly the portion referring to the now famous "General Managers' association," the organization of high railway officials that encompassed the memorable defeat of the American Railway Union.

The report says the capitalization of the twenty-four railroads directly represented in the General Managers' association was $1,108,552,617. The number of employees was 221,097. The commission continues:

"The formation of this association brought the employees sharply face to face with the fact that in questions as to wages, rules, etc., each line was supported by twenty-four combined railroads. As the result, during 1893—it being then well understood as to wages, etc., it was an incident of the General Managers' association to assist each road in case of trouble over such matters, one form of assistance being for the association to secure men enough through its agencies to take the place of all strikers—reductions were here and there made on the different roads, the tendency and effort apparently being to equalize the pay on all lines."

Of the association itself the report says: "It is a usurpation of power not granted. If such an association is necessary from a business or economic standpoint the right to form and maintain it must come from the state that granted its charter. In theory corporations are limited to the powers granted either directly or by clear inference. We do not think the power has been granted in either way in this case."

"The association is an illustration of the persistent and shrewdly devised plan of corporations to overreach their limitations and to usurp indirectly powers and rights not contemplated in their charters and not obtainable from the people or their legislators. An extension of this association as above suggested and the proposed legislation of pooling would result in an aggregation of power and capital dangerous to the people and their liberties, as well as to employees and their rights. The question would then certainly arise as to which shall control, the government or the railroads, and the end would inevitably be government ownership. Unless ready for that result and all that it implies the government must restrain corporations within the law and prevent them from forming unlawful and dangerous combinations. At least, so long as railroads are thus permitted to combine to fix wages and for their joint protection, it would be rank injustice to deny the right of all labor upon railroads to unite for similar purposes."

"It should be noted that until the railroads set the example a general union of railroad employees was never attempted. The unions had not gone beyond enlisting the men upon different systems in separate trade organizations. These neutralize and check each other to some extent, and have no such scope or capacity for good or evil as is possible under the universal combination idea inaugurated by the railroads and followed by the American Railway Union. The refusal of the General Managers' association to recognize and deal with such a combination of labor as the American Railway Union seems arrogant and absurd, when we consider its standing before the law, its assumptions, and its past and obviously contemplated future action."

Taking up the subject of the Pullman Palace Car company the report first condemns the system under which the town of Pullman is conducted, and compares it to the "truck" system which every state in the Union has attempted to do away with. Of the causes leading up to the strike it says:

"The demand of the employees for the wages of June, 1893, was clearly unjustifiable. The business in May, 1894, could not pay the wages of June, 1893. Reduction was carried to excess, but the company was hardly more at fault therein than were the employees in insisting upon the wages of June, 1893. There was little discussion as to rents, the company maintaining its rents had nothing to do with its wages, and that its revenue from its tenements was no greater than it ought to receive. Some slight concession in this regard would probably have averted the strike, provided the promise not to discharge men who served upon the committee had been more strictly regarded." The action of the strikers at Pullman in refraining from acts of violence is highly commended by the commission.

As to the great railroad strike proper the report says: "It is apparent the readiness to strike sympathetically was promoted by the disturbed and apprehensive condition of railroad employees, resulting from wage reductions on different lines, blacklisting, etc., and from the recent growth of the General Managers' association, which seemed to them a menace."

Further on the report says:

"It is seriously questioned and with much force whether courts have jurisdiction to enjoin citizens from 'persuading' each other in industrial or other matters of common interest. However, it is generally recognized among good citizens that a mandate of a court is to be obeyed until it is modified and corrected by the court that issued it."

The policy, the report says, of both the Pullman company and the Railway Managers' association in reference to applications to arbitrate closed the door to all attempts at conciliation and settlement of differences. The commission is impressed with the belief, by the evidence and by the attendant circumstances as disclosed, that a different policy would have prevented the loss of life and great loss of property and wages occasioned by the strike.

The report declares the arrival of the troops at Chicago was opportune and says that the policemen sympathized with strikers rather than with the corporations can not be doubted, nor would it be surprising to find the same sentiment rife among the military.

The commission briefly disposes in this way of the matter of the use of federal troops:

"Sec. 4 of Art. IV. of the federal constitution reads as follows: 'The United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the legislature or of the executive (when the legislature can not be convened) against domestic violence.'"

"United States troops were not sent into Illinois upon the application of the legislature, nor of the executive, against domestic violence; i. e., violence affecting the state and its government as such. The President ordered the troops to Chicago: (1) To protect federal property; (2) to prevent obstruction in the carrying of the mails; (3) to prevent interference with the interstate commerce; (4) to enforce the decrees and mandates of the federal courts."

The report, however, adds: "Many impartial observers are reaching the view that much of the real responsibility for these disorders rests with the people themselves and with the government for not adequately controlling monopolies and corporations and for failing reasonably to protect the rights of labor and redress its wrongs. None assert that laws can completely remedy contentions as to wages, etc., but many do insist that something substantial can be accomplished in this direction if attempted honestly, reasonably and in good faith."

Of the responsibility of the officers of the American Railway Union for violence committed during the strike the commission says:

"There is no evidence before the commission that the officers of the American Railway Union at any time participated in or advised intimidation, violence or destruction of property. The attacks upon corporations and monopolies by the leaders in their speeches are similar to those to be found in the magazines and industrial works of the day. From the testimony it is fair to conclude that strikers were concerned in the outrages against law and order, although the number was undoubtedly small as compared with the whole number out."

The commission deems recommendations of specific remedies premature. Such a problem, for instance, as universal government ownership of railroads, is too vast, many sided and far away, if attempted, to be considered as an immediate, practical remedy. Should, however, continued combinations and consolidations result in a dozen or less ownerships of our railroads within a few years, as is by no means unlikely, the question of government ownership will be forced to the front and we need to be ready to dispose of it intelligently. Other nations, under their conditions, own and operate telegraphs and railroads with varying results. Whether it is practicable for this nation to do so successfully, when it becomes necessary to save an investment or when the people determine it shall be done, is an open and serious question, which can not be answered fully except by actual experiment.

The commission makes three series of recommendations. The first is: "1. That there be a permanent United States strike commission of three members with duties and powers of investigation and recommendation as to disputes between railroads and their employees, similar to those vested in the interstate commerce commission as to rates, etc."

"2. That chapter 267 of United States statutes of 1885-'86 be amended so as to require national trade unions to provide in their articles of incorporation and in their constitutions, rules and by-laws that a member shall cease to be such and forfeit all rights and privileges conferred on him by law as such by participating in or by instigating force or violence against persons or boycotts, or by seeking to prevent others from working through violence, threats, or intimidation; also that members shall be no more personally liable for corporate acts than are stockholders in corporations."

"3. The commission does not feel warranted, with the study it has been able to give to the subject, to recommend positively the establishment of a license system, by which all the higher employees or others of railways engaged in interstate commerce should be licensed after due and proper examination, but it would recommend, and most urgently, that this subject be carefully and fully considered by the proper committee of congress. Many railway employees and some railway officials examined and many others who filed their suggestions in writing are in favor of some such system."

The second series of recommendations relates to states.

"1. The commission would suggest the consideration by the states of the adoption of some system of conciliation and arbitration like that, for instance, in Massachusetts. That system might be reinforced by additional provisions giving the board of arbitration more power to investigate all strikes, whether requested to do so or not, and the question might be considered as to giving labor organizations a standing before the law as heretofore suggested for national trade unions."

"2. Contracts requiring men to agree not to join labor organizations or to leave them as conditions of employment should be made illegal, as is already done in some of our states."

The third set relates to the relations between employers and workmen:

"1. The commission urges employers to recognize labor organizations; that such organizations be dealt with through representatives with special reference to conciliation and arbitration when difficulties are threatened or arise. It is satisfied that employers should come in closer touch with labor, and should recognize that while the interests of capital and labor are not identical they are reciprocal."

"2. The commission is satisfied that if employers everywhere will endeavor to act in concert with labor; that if, when wages can be raised under economic conditions they be raised voluntarily; and that if, when there are reductions, reasons be given for the reduction, much friction can be avoided. It is also satisfied that if employers will consider employees as essential to industrial success as capital, and thus take labor into consultation at proper time, much of the severity of strikes can be tempered and their number reduced."

DEMAND FOR ANTI-TOXIN.

American Consul at Berlin Tells About Manufacture and Supply.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Among the reports coming to the state department from American consuls abroad upon the new serum treatment for diphtheria is one from Consul-General Charles DeKay at Berlin exhibiting the efficacy of the new treatment by comparison. He says that the establishment at Shering, near the Jungfern Heide, has forty horses under treatment for the production of serum, yet the demand for the article has been so great that the hospitals ran out of it in September. This had a pronounced effect on the death rate. While for diphtheria in children under 4 years of age, the most difficult sort, the rate had sunk to 11 per cent before the exhaustion of the store of serum, it rose during October to 60 per cent. The serum is costly because establishments for its production are few; its preparation is slow and it must be had comparatively fresh. It is given out that it takes at least nine months, and sometimes a year, to get the animals—all under 3 years old—into condition. One animal does not furnish over two quarts of blood at a time. It must be carefully fed between dates of tapping, and as in time the strength of its blood as a means of cure gives out, it is necessary to go over again the process of cultivating the bacillus. Absolute certainty is not ascribed to the cure, and especially cases in which other diseases are present should not be considered a fair test of its virtues. It is not at all panacea.

ST. LOUIS LAUNCHED.

Christened by Mrs. Cleveland With American Champagne.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 13.—Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday the steamship St. Louis of the American line, was successfully launched at Cramp's ship yards. The affair was witnessed by fully 50,000 people. Mrs. Cleveland, wife of the President, broke the traditional bottle of champagne on the bow of the noble ship as it glided down the ways, at the same time uttering these words: "I christen thee St. Louis." In this instance, and for the first time since the ceremony was observed at Cramp's shipyard, the champagne was of American manufacture. All preparations for the launch had been carried fully made, and although the ship is 120 feet longer than any that has ever been launched at the yard, the difficult feat of getting the vessel from the ways into the water was accomplished without a hitch.

Towed Into Harbor at Port Huron.

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 13.—The steamboat Maine arrived here yesterday towing the steamboat Turner and barges. The Turner had lost her shoe in the storm. She will be docked here for repairs. The steamer Toledo is at Sand Beach with her rudder gone. The tug Boynton will tow her here for repairs.

Fire in Kentucky Penitentiary.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 13.—Fire broke out in the three story brick warehouse of the Kentucky penitentiary at 11:30 yesterday. The structure was destroyed.

Mother and Child Perish.

HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Jacob Thomas and child were burned to death here yesterday.

KILLED THEIR PAL TO KEEP HIM STILL

WOUNDED BANK ROBBER EFFECTUALLY SILENCED.

Masked Men Held Up the Cashier of the Sylvan Grove, Kan., Bank and Carry Off Available Funds But Fearing the Wounded Man Would Tell, Shot Him.

SALINA, Kan., Nov. 12.—Three masked robbers attempted to hold up the bank at Sylvan Grove, Kan., forty miles west of here, at noon yesterday, and one of their number met death in an unusually tragic manner. He was shot by the cashier of the bank, John Calene, and when in a dying condition was perforated with bullets by his own comrades to save themselves from exposure.

The men rode into town on fast horses. They pulled up with a jerk in front of the bank, and while one robber remained seated holding the bridle of the other two horses and guarding the entrance to the bank his two companions entered. A citizen who was transacting business at the counter quickly complied with their command to throw up his hands. The cashier was ordered to turn over what money he had and reluctantly complied. It was but a few minutes from the time the bandits turned their horses into the business street before they were again mounted and away with all the ready cash the bank had.

The moment the robbers were out of the building the cashier secured his gun and rushing to the door opened fire on them. A bullet from the cashier's weapon lodged in the back of one of the fleeing men. He staggered in his saddle for a moment, but kept his seat and galloped on. He was too badly wounded, however, to continue, and before he had gone a quarter of a mile his body fell heavily to the ground. His comrades, who up to this time had kept right ahead, pulled their horses up, and riding back to the prostrate man fired several shots into his body and rode away. When picked up the deserted outlaw was dead. Nobody knew him and nothing to identify him was on his person. It is believed the three were a scattered portion of the Cook gang working their way west after having been separated from the main body and driven from their haunts in the Indian Territory. The bank has offered a reward of $200 each for the capture of the robbers, dead or alive. The sheriffs of three counties have organized forces which are now in search of the bandits. The bank officials are keeping the amount stolen secret.

PASSENGER TRAIN IS HELD UP.

Two Men Rob the Express Car Way Safe of All Its Contents.

MONETTE, Mo., Nov. 13.—Frisco passenger train No. 1, due here at 8 o'clock last night, was held up four miles east of Monette by two masked men and the express car was robbed. The amount secured is not known, but it is several hundred dollars, including all local money between Springfield and this place. Two men did the work. The large safe could not be opened. The passengers were not disturbed. Another account of the robbery says there were six in the gang. Conductor Wightman passed through the train and warned the passengers to conceal their valuables. Passengers took refuge under seats, behind doors, and some retired to the Pullman sleepers to the rear of the train. After fifteen minutes of suspense at the muzzle of a gun the engineer and fireman were marched to the cab of the engine and commanded to back the train a quarter of a mile from the scene of the robbery. Messenger Chapman succeeded in hiding all the money save $200 in currency, which he handed over to the robbers.

SCHOOL FIRE PANIC.

Teacher Jumps From a Window and a Little Girl Is Overcome.

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 13.—The public school building of Windsor, Mo., a brick structure valued at $20,000 and insured for $5,000, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Five hundred pupils were rescued with difficulty. Walter Finks, a teacher, was cut off by the flames and injured by jumping from a second story window. A girl was overcome by the smoke and narrowly escaped being burned alive.

Japanese Capture Port Arthur.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13.—The Japanese captured Port Arthur Sunday morning, after meeting with a feeble resistance on the part of the Chinese. Port Arthur was bombarded previous to its surrender. The Chinese laid down their arms and yielded themselves prisoners of war. The Chinese commanding officer abandoned Port Arthur during the night of Nov. 6.

"Winard" in the Lead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Jacob Schaefer and Frank C. Ives began a six nights' billiard match in the Concert hall of the Madison Square last night and 500 persons were present. The men are to play 3,600 points, fourteen-inch ball line, anchor nurse barred, 5x10 table, 300 points a night, for a stake of $5,000 and the net receipts. The game resulted: Schaefer, 600; Ives, 568. Schaefer will resume play to-night.

SEAL CATCH IS LARGE.

Nearly One Hundred Thousand Skins Taken During the Season.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 13.—The official statement regarding the pelagic sealing of 1894, compiled from log books sworn to, has been forwarded to Ottawa, London and Washington. This being the first season since the international complications arose in which sealers had access to Bering sea they spent from the 1st of August to the middle of September strictly observing the law, prohibiting the use of fire arms under the watchful supervision of United States gunboats, and confining themselves to the use of spears. Only about half of the vessels of the fleet were able to secure spearmen and these did remarkably well. Despite this and other interferences the total for the year is the largest on record, the catch of the fifty-nine vessels being 94,474 skins against 70,332 for the fleet of fifty-five vessels in 1893 and 45,385 for the sixty-five vessels in 1892.

REFUSES TO BE DEPOSED.

San Jose Minister Who Declines to Give Up His Pulpit to a Successor.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 13.—Two ministers claim the pastorate of the German Lutheran Evangelical church, and each is supported by a faction of the congregation. William Braunschweig has been pastor for six years. O. H. Buren, his son-in-law, holds the church property in his name, having advanced money to pay the debt. The members claimed that the pastor made no effort to pay off the debt to Buren and that the matter would probably acquire the church property by default. Pastor Braunschweig was deposed and A. D. Denninger chosen to succeed him. Braunschweig retaliated by depositing the church clerk and dropping from the rolls the names of members who opposed him. Each minister tried to secure the pulpit, but Denninger was first on the scene and managed to hold the fort. Braunschweig has not given up the fight and promises to make it lively for his opponents.

HAWAIIAN ELECTION.

Only One Man Ran Against the Government and He Was Defeated.

HONOLULU, Nov. 3, (via Victoria, B. C., Nov. 13).—The first election of the new republic was a failure from a political point of view. On this, the principal island, there was only one man who ran against the government ticket and he was defeated. Every candidate was pledged to support annexation to the exclusion of everything else. This was the platform of the American union party and was applied to any senator or representative who would not declare himself as a true blue annexationist. Now that the election is over the public mind is wondering when the two houses will meet for their first session. No definite date has been set, but it is hardly likely that the legislature will be called together until after Jan. 1.

Has a Half Million Dollar Fire.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 13.—The Texas & Pacific railroad's big cotton wharf on the other side of the river caught fire last evening. The entire wharf, 800 feet long, was destroyed and with it between 25,000 and 26,000 bales of cotton. Forty or fifty cars loaded with cotton were consumed. The loss will reach $500,000.

Mourned by Russia.

MOSCOW, Nov. 13.—Thousands of people viewed the body of Alexander III during the night, as it rested in state in the Cathedral of the Archangel Michael. The golden pall was thrown back, exposing the features of the dead man. On his breast and above the crossed hands of the dead rested the sacred icon of St. Alexander Newsky, the late czar's patron saint. The leading officials were allowed to kiss the icon and they availed themselves of this much coveted privilege.

For the Issue of Bonds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—It is stated confidentially in Wall street that the government bond issue has been agreed upon. Secretary Carlisle, so the story goes, was informed Saturday night of the president's arrangement with New York bankers. To await congressional action would involve too much delay without any guarantee of favorable results.

Little Hope for Silver.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 12.—Congressman Lafe Pence, defeated candidate for re-election, said at a populist meeting that he would venture the prediction that no bill for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would come out of the committee under Tom Reed's leadership in the next congress.

Twenty People Are Killed.

BUDA PESTH, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Bruex, Bohemia, says that twenty persons were killed in an explosion at a colliery near that place.

Floods in Great Britain.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Heavy rains have prevailed in various parts of Great Britain, causing floods which in many cases have brought business to a standstill.

Argentine Crisis Continues.

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 13.—The political crisis not only continues, but is accentuated.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 13.—The puddlers employed in the Wayne Iron works of Brown Sons & Co. of this city have been notified that beginning next Monday the rate for puddling would be advanced 10 per cent.

DEATH'S SHAKE DID

Bolivia Towns Feel the Force of An Awful Upheaval—Dr. Schonstedt Will Be the Prussian Minister of Justice—Spain Pays for the Mission Wrecking.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Nov. 13.—One hundred people have been killed within fifty miles of here by earthquakes.

EEHLIN, Nov. 13.—It is reported that Dr. Schonstedt of the Hanover court of appeals has been appointed Prussian minister of justice, to succeed Dr. Von Seeling.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Rev. Dr. C. C. Cregan, district secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, has received word from the home office of the board in Boston that the treasurer has received $17,500 from the United States government, being the indemnity paid by Spain as compensation for an outrage perpetrated against American citizens and American property in Ponape, one of the group of Micronesian islands in the Southern Pacific, in 1888. It was many years ago that the American board established a mission among the natives of Ponape, a savage race. A church was built and schools were up and put and maintained and the mission work was carried on with much success for a long time. Subsequently Spanish missionaries arrived on the island and strife soon followed. Threats were made to kill the American missionaries and their families and for a long time the latter lived in fear of their lives. The situation became so perilous that the Rev. E. T. Doane and his assistants were compelled to flee from their homes in the darkness of night by means of small boats. The hardships endured in the flight proved fatal to Mr. Doane and Miss Fletcher, one of his assistants, became crazed by reason of her terrible experience and has been since then an inmate of an insane asylum. After the departure of the refugees, the school, church and all the buildings of the mission were destroyed by fire. At first Spain denied any responsibility in the matter, but was at last forced to admit it, as the payment of the indemnity shows. No attempt has been made to reopen the American mission.

WELCOME GEN. BOOTH.

Salvation Army Commander Entertained by Cleveland Clergymen.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13.—There was an immense outpouring of Salvation army soldiers at the Union depot yesterday to Gen. William Booth, the founder of the army, who arrived full of enthusiasm over the success of the Pittsburgh gathering. There were present many local clergymen of prominence and a committee of representative citizens, who welcomed the general on behalf of the people of Cleveland. Gen. Booth was accompanied by his son, Commander Ballington Booth, and several other staff officers of the army. This afternoon Gen. Booth was entertained by the clergymen of the city and at night he delivered a lecture at the Music hall.

LUTHERAN CELEBRATION.

Anniversary of Martin Luther's Birth Observed in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 13.—The four hundred and eleventh anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther was observed by an interesting celebration at Association hall last evening under the auspices of the Luther league of Brooklyn. Among the speakers were Mayor Charles A. Schieren, Rev. J. J. Heischmann, D. D., of Brooklyn; Rev. J. B. Remensnyder, D. D., of New York; Rev. E. D. Miller, of Scranton, Pa., president of the Lutheran league of Pennsylvania and E. F. Eiert, president of the Lutheran league of New York state.

Double Tragedy Caused by Jealousy.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 13.—Henry Powell shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Sapira McLaughlin at Vicar's, North Rochester, Pa., Saturday night and then sent a bullet through his own brain, dying instantly. Powell separated from his wife recently and went to board with Mrs. McLaughlin, a widow. They became lovers and Powell's deed was prompted by jealousy. Mrs. McLaughlin's wounds are fatal. Powell left a note saying he was married to the woman, but she revived sufficiently to deny it.

Escape with Thirty Days.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 13.—Lee Frizzeil and Fred Jones, charged with conspiring to rob a Rock Island train, pleaded guilty yesterday and were sent to jail for thirty days, the conspiracy being held by the court to be misdemeanor. The men, after being sentenced, admitted that they belonged to a gang organized to rob trains and said that if they had not been arrested at least one train would have been held up. Newberger, the worst of the gang, is still at large.

Oppose Young Kosuth.

VIENNA, Nov. 13.—Maurice Jokai, the Hungarian author and member of the Hungarian diet, has written a letter to Franz Kosuth, eldest son of the late Louis Kosuth, condemning Kosuth's agitation in favor of a purely personal union with the emperor as the only connecting link between Austria and Hungary.

BOREAS RAN THINGS AT THE JUNCTION

HIS CELEBRATION SUPPLANTED THE REPUBLICANS.

Flakes Came So thick that the Ratification Meeting that Was Planned Had to Be Abandoned—Glee Club Had a Song Ready to Sing—County News.

MILTON, Nov. 13.—The blizzard caused the postponement of the republican jollification at Milton Junction last night. The glee club under the direction of Dr. Stillman drove through the blizzard to the Junction and were disgusted to learn that there was to be no jollification meeting as advertised. The club had a new song ready to sing. The composition is the joint production of W. P. Clarke and another gentleman and is sung to the familiar tunes of "There'll be no sorrow there."

There'll be no democrats there,
There'll be no democrats there,
In Madison city, oh what a pity,
There'll be no democrats there.

There'll be no roster job there,
There'll be no roster job there,
In Madison, fair, when Uppham gets there
There'll be no roster job there.

There'll be no Boss Wall there,
There'll be no Boss Wall there,
We have broken his slate for running this state,
There'll be no Boss Wall there.

There'll be no George Peck there,
There'll be no George Peck there,
In the mausons of state, we've not long

There'll be no free trade there,
In congressional halls, when speaker Reed calls,
There'll be no free trade there.

McKinley will be there,
McKinley will be there,
When the ballots we fix, in ninety-six,
McKinley will be there.

Hon. P. M. Green, W. P. Clarke and W. W. Clarke attended the republican jollification at Milwaukee Friday night. The kind of Indian summer that we have had for a few days past does not please the public. A. M. Mayhew, who travels for the Staver-Abbott Co. and wife, of Chicago, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clem W. Crumb Friday and Saturday. Mrs. F. R. Morris had a birthday Sunday and was surprised that evening by a party of Janesville relatives and friends who came upon the scene with the materials for a banquet. After an enjoyable visit they departed for their city home at 2 o'clock in the morning. Dawson & Co. of Janesville, and R. Vincent and R. House each shipped a carload of stock to Chicago Monday.

WEEK'S EVENTS AT THE GROVE:

Thermometer Got Down to Nine Degrees Above Zero—Other Notes.

EMERALD GROVE, Nov. 13.—Several inches of snow has fallen during the past week. It was nine degrees above zero on Sunday morning. Monday afternoon the strong wind from the south brought up a snow storm, which was equal to any midwinter's blizzard. Are you eating any of that full cream cheese Gillies & Jones are selling at twelve cents per pound? Mrs. J. S. Wright is on the sick list. Dr. C. P. Wright, of Clinton attends him. D. A. Cummings, whose death at Los Angeles, California, was reported in last week's Gazette, was well known here. Mr. Cummings sold his farm on account of poor health about two years ago and went to the Pacific coast with the hopes of improvement. An entertainment course is being arranged for the coming winter by our church and young people. They are now canvassing the field for the sale of tickets. Season tickets, seven entertainments, one dollar. Hundreds of acres of corn yet to be husked in this vicinity. There will be an "experience" social at the old church on Friday evening, November 23. The program will be rendered by the ladies who have earned their dollars for the benefit of the church.

RUNAWAY AT NORTH JOHNSTOWN

C. W. Bullock's Team Indulge In Gymnastics—Sunday School Convention Drew Well.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN, Nov. 13.—C. W. Bullock's team ran away one day last week. They started from the cornfield and ran towards the barn colliding with the fence. The shock threw one horse from his feet but strange to say no damage was done. The Sunday school convention held at the Free Baptist church was a success. C. W. Bullock led a devotional service and Rev. Mr. Huey gave a very interesting talk, it was well received. Sunday morning was pleasant but the roads were very rough, but the workers came, County Missionary Leas and wife of Janesville, Rev. Plumb and daughter, Rev. Richard Miller Rev. W. T. Mlar and Rev. E. M. Dunn of Milton, C. S. Harris and Rev. W. H. Newton of North Johnstown being among them. Quite a number of strangers were also present. Next Thursday evening the Ladies Aid society and the Woman's Mission society of the Free Baptist church will have a social and supper at the home of Miss Eva Newton. Supper will cost ten cents and all are invited. W.

C. T. U. will meet next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Rice. John Christian has gone north to stay. Meeting will be held every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; Sunday school at the close of the service; Young People's meeting under auspices of the A. C. F. every Sunday evening at 7:30. Miss Kellum leads the meetin next Sunday evening and a good attendance is desired. The young people had a very interesting topic last week. The returns made the republicans smile while the democrats look discouraged.

News Notes From Cooksville.

COOKSVILLE, Nov. 13.—Everything is very quiet since election. The democrats will be all snowed under, for we don't hear anything about them. James Allen was down town Thursday for the first time since his sickness. J. Savage is still confined to the house. Charles Miller purchased three hundred and twenty-five lambs up in Richland county. The I. O. G. T. will give an evening with Whittier in the near future. Winter is here. D. M. Joanson has sixty acres of corn to husk. Elder Murphy and wife came over from Stoughton last Thursday to help clean the church. All worked with a will and it is all in good shape now. A social was held at C. S. Prestons last Wednesday night. About twenty were there. The following is the average standing of the pupils of First District No. 2, town of Center and Janesville for the term ending October 26, 1894: Helen Poppbe, 84; Sarah Lyons, 85; Charley Brown, 91; Mary Lyons, 75; Walter Little, 76; Helen Lyons, 77; Hannah Thornburn, 61; Martha Drepahl, 81; Mary Thornburn, 67; Frank Poppbe, 73; Marion Poppbe, 82; Alva Tracy, 86; Margie Lyons, 62; Harry Anderson, 84; Mabel Thompson, 74; Mabel Olson, 69; Winnifred Tracy, 82. A. L. Savage, teacher.

Personals from Lima Center.

LIMA CENTER, Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Parker are away on a two weeks' visit with friends at Mount Horeb. Mr. Gilson was taken suddenly ill last Thursday morning, but is now improving. The many friends of Mr. Frank Freeman will be pleased to learn that he is a little better. The storm of last Friday kept those at home who had anticipated a visit with Rutland friends, and storms, which reminds us that winter has come to stay. Mrs. E. A. Cary of Johnstown, visited Lima friends from Thursday until Tuesday.

BIG SHOOTING MATCH AT CHICAGO

Ed. Bingham Will Be In Fast Company On Thursday.

Charles I. Sloan received a letter from Ed Bingham of Montgomery Ward & Company, Chicago, saying that a live bird shooting match for the championship of the world will be held at Watson's park near Chicago on Thursday in which all the noted workmen in the country will take part, including C. W. Budd, L. C. Brewer, J. A. R. Elliot, Dr. W. F. Carver and many others. Mr. Bingham is an A1 shot himself and the letter winds up by saying "come down and see these fellows beat me." Members of the Janesville Shooting club will gamble that they won't all beat Bingham, he is a Rock county boy and they all get to the front.

BAPTIST CHURCH 50 YEARS OLD

The Anniversary Will Be Celebrated on Wednesday, Nov. 21.

The fiftieth anniversary of the organizing of the First Baptist church, will be celebrated at the church parlors Wednesday, Nov. 21, beginning with roll call at 2 o'clock. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock, after which addresses and a history of the church will be read. All members are requested to attend, and those who cannot be present are requested to send in a few words so that the pastor and congregation may know of their whereabouts and how they are progressing.

To "Suffer and Be Strong."

In other words, to exhibit fortitude when enduring bodily pain is, of course, praiseworthy, but sufferers from rheumatism would undoubtedly forego the praise which the exercise of this Spartan virtue calls forth, to obtain prompt and easy relief. It is at their very threshold in the shape of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which arrests this formidable disease at the outset, and acts as an efficient anodyne upon the afflicted nervous system. Take time by the forelock if you feel rheumatic twinges, and give them a quietude at once. Rheumatism is ready, you may perhaps not be aware, liable to attack the heart. Many a man and woman with a heart thus attacked has promptly "shuffled off this mortal coil." The Bitters is also an excellent remedy for kidney trouble, malaria, constipation, debility, neuralgia, sleeplessness and dyspepsia.

NEW STAMPS HELP THE DEVIL'S CAUSE.

PROFANITY PROMOTED BY REFUSAL TO STICK.

Gum Is No Good on the New Lot Just Received and a Bottle Of Mucilage Has to Be Kept At Hand—Nothing Can Be Done About It.

Your Uncle Samuel down in Washington, is responsible for a good deal of the profanity in this broad land these days. Notwithstanding that the people of the country have just rallied gallantly to the support of the movement that insures his prosperity, your Uncle Samuel is not grateful; he pays the men who helped him in shabby coin. All you have got to do to demonstrate this fact is to go to the Janesville post office and buy some of the stamps that have just been issued. After you buy it dampen the sticky side and put it on your letter. Be careful, while you are doing it, not to breathe for if you do the stamp will sail away into space and you'll have to buy another. The "stickum" like the promises of a politician is "no good." There's only one way in which you can get around the difficulty and that is to "lick" the letter instead of the stamp and then carefully hold the latter in place for several days. Then it'll stick if—the wind doesn't blow—long enough to get it into the mail box.

Stamps Loose in the Box.

When the carrier comes around and picks the letters up he'll find that the stamp is gone, but the wrinkled corner of the envelope will show where it was. Probably there will be a dozen or more letters in the box without the stamps, so the carrier will gather up both letters and stamps, and where the former show the marks of where the latter were, perhaps he'll stick it on again, but chances are it will be returned to you for further treatment. Perhaps, if the trouble continues, and if "licking" the stamp and the letter will not do the business, it will become a popular fad to seek out the man you want to write to and "lick" him in addition. This would save much cussing all around and insure the letter reaching its destination in the course of time. This is not a campaign story, for the campaign is all over, including the shouting, but it's business. The contract for furnishing Uncle Sam with stamps is let to the largest bidder. The mucilage used on them is largely composed of potato starch, and like the somewhat famous little girl with the cork screw curl, "when it is good it is very good, and when it is bad it is horrid." Just now it is bad and the stamps won't stick unless you paint 'em with mucilage and then set a weight on them over night. Many Janesville people are complaining. This is a bustling town and people do not have time to put their mail under a brick for twenty four hours.

Nothing Can Be Done

Janesville is not the only town that is afflicted. Every city in the United States where the new issue of stamps have been received is having the same trouble. The stamps will not stick and great is the trouble caused thereby. Walk up to the stamp window of the post office and you will notice that the clerk will flinch.

"Are you having any trouble with stamps?" was asked of T. B. Leahy this morning.

"Uh!" he replied when it became evident that the questioner did not want to buy one. "I should think we had."

"What are you going to do about it; send the bad ones back?"

"We can't send them back. We keep a bottle of mucilage here and stick them with that. We have got to use them up somehow."

If Uncle Sam doesn't furnish a better article some one will start an opposition post office, sure.

ARE THEY TRUE?

Are Advertisements Strictly True?

A Talk On Their Honesty and Actual Value.

Especially Those Of Proprietary Medicines.

Are the Testimonials Used In Them Genuine?

Should People Believe In Advertised Medicines?

How much confidence should the public place in advertisements of medicines? Every human being is interested in this great question because it deeply concerns us all. In these times of hard work and over exertion when almost everybody needs medicine of some kind, it is absolutely necessary that people know what to do for their tired nerves, weak bodies and diseased organs.

Our daily papers are constantly advertising medicines, and giving testimonials of persons who have been cured by their use. The questions arise, are these testimonials genuine? Are they exact and truthful statements made by people who have really been cured by the medicine advertised? There is no doubt that the majority of advertised medicines are just what they are represented to be, and that the testimonials are perfectly reliable, being accurate statements of persons cured. From our experience, such testimonials are true and state only what are facts. We know positively that all the vast numbers of testimonials of cure published in regard to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy are true, strictly and accurately true, and that people can and should be guided by them, for these true testimonials prove that the cures were made by this wonderful medicine, and that this remedy will cure others who take it.

Newspaper men themselves are often cured, and often give testimonials, and no newspaper man would allow unreliable or false testimonials to be published in his paper. Thomas A. Lindsay is one of the most popular newspaper men in the country, and is connected with Albany's (N. Y.) leading morning paper, The Morning Express. He makes the following interesting statement:

"For many years I have been subject to severe spells of headache and nervousness, at times almost enough to drive a man to insanity from pain, loss of sleep, etc.

"Medicines, narcotics, patent and prescribed, did not give relief, and the ailment increased continually. Having read in the Albany Morning Express at different times, the advertisement of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I concluded to try this remedy, and after the use of six or seven bottles, found not only relief but a radical cure.

"The headaches are a thing of the past, while the terrible nervous spells have gradually become less and less, until now I have little or none of them left, and my sleep is natural and refreshing.

"I do not hesitate in saying that this remarkable change is entirely due to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I heartily recommend it for ailments like my own, no matter what the cause of them."

Dr. Greene, the discoverer of this great remedy, has long been the most successful specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his enormous practice and wide experience. Everybody knows that when he makes a statement it can be depended upon, and when a testimonial of cure by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is published, our readers can be certain that every word of it is true. The persons giving the testimonials can always be seen or written to. These proofs, together with the fact that this medicine cures, are the cause of its enormous sales. People know it always does just what he says it will, and they have found it to be even a more wonderful medicine than was claimed for it.

He has had many imitators, but no one has ever been able to discover a medicine so wonderful in its curing and strengthening powers as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th St., New York City, the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone, at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this best of all remedies.

TWO MORE TRAINS ON THE ST. PAUL

INCREASED PASSENGER FACILITIES WILL BE HAD.

One Train Will Leave For Madison At Seven In the Evening and Another Arrives From the Same Town at 5:35—Two Conductors Likely to Move.

Janesville will be greatly benefitted by a change in time on the St. Paul road, which is expected on Sunday and will run two more passenger trains through the town. The two trains will run between Janesville and Madison, one leaving for the Capital City at 7 o'clock in the evening, and the second arriving in Janesville from Madison at 5:35 in the evening, leaving that city at 4 o'clock. The latter train will run through to Mineral Point. Edgerton, Stoughton and stations between Milton Junction and Madison will also be benefitted, as it will give them afternoon connections for Milwaukee. The change will be likely to compel conductors George Corson, who lately removed here from Monroe, and Charles Joss, who lately came here from Madison to make their homes in the Capital City as they, instead of running to Milton Junction only, will go through to Madison and on the afternoon train, instead of stopping here continue on to Mineral Point. Just what other changes are contemplated are not known yet.

O. D. ROWE A VERY LUCKY MAN

Election to Office and Free Pants Came in One Week.

Register of Deeds Elect O. D. Rowe is about lucky enough to be caught out in a rain of $10 gold pieces. Some days ago he bought a pair of trousers of E. J. Smith and the latter insisted that they should be paid for out of Mr. Rowe's first month's salary.

"But suppose I should want to pay for them now?" Mr. Rowe suggested. "Your money isn't good," remarked Manager Smith. "You pay for them in the way I say."

Mr. Rowe's eye twinkled.

"Can't make any other arrangement?" he asked.

"No," replied Mr. Smith.

"Well, I'll be bound by it if you will."

"All right," answered Smith.

Now, there is no salary paid the register of deeds; it's a fee office, consequently Mr. Rowe will never draw "his first month's salary," so how is the bill to be paid? To be elected to a good office by the largest majority on the ticket and get free pants all in one week, would seem to place Mr. Rowe on a plane with the man who was so lucky that he fell into the river without getting wet.

A Difference In Make ::

Makes a great difference,

DON'T YOU THINK?

If you don't thing a minute, the "quack" tailoring firms about town are eternally talking of making clothes so much cheaper than your own tailors can.

How do they do it?

Send it to Chicago to a large "sweat shop" and it is put in the "machine" and rushed through. You put it on and wear it two or three weeks and, lo and behold, it is worse than poorest "hand-made-down."

We Guarantee - -

Perfect satisfaction, not only the first week, but "first, last and for all time," as long as you wear the garment.

AN INDIAN FIGHTER.

WHO HAS SETTLED DOWN AND WILL WAR NO MORE.

Now He Tells Stories of Hairbreadth
Escapes While With Custer—A Celebrated
Character Found in Pond Creek, Oklahoma.

AMONG THE MANY interesting characters to be found in Oklahoma is Daniel Doran, a lawyer of Pond Creek. His friends call him "Judge" Doran, probably because he never was on the bench. He is a typical son of the Emerald Isle, and kissed the Blarney stone many, many years ago. His hair is long and bushy and curls around his head in long, wavy curls. "Judge" Doran drifted west when he was a young man. He was with Custer three years, having joined that lamented Indian fighter after the Salt Fork massacre of 1852. Like all men who lived on the border in those days, Doran can tell stirring tales of adventure when so disposed, which is not very often. One of these relates to "Wild Bill," who is described by Doran as a remarkable shot. Bill was in Junction City, Kan., one day, drunk and ugly. John A. Anderson, a Presbyterian preacher, was holding services in a church, when Bill rode into the sacred edifice. The preacher ordered him to leave and for reply Bill drew a revolver and ordered Mr. Anderson to dance. The preacher vainly remonstrated. It was dance or die, and he danced. A Mexican scout who could throw a lasso with wonderful precision was brought from a house near by.

DANIEL DORAN.

"Bill was still seated on his horse, laughing in a drunken glee at the preacher, who was dancing for dear life," says Doran in telling the story. "The Mexican crept up to the door. He paused, twirled the lasso above his head, there was a swish through the air and the loop fell over Bill's head; it dropped below his shoulders and the Mexican gave it a quick jerk. The rope drew tight about Bill's body; it pinned his arms to his side. A strong pull unseated Bill and we hauled him out of the church. You can imagine that the preacher felt relieved. Services were immediately dismissed. It was a narrow escape for Rev. Anderson, for Bill surely would have killed him had he not complied with his commands. We took Bill to the train and kept him until he sobered up. Then he went to Rev. Anderson and apologized."

Electric Current in the Quilt.

A new invention, called by its inventor the thermogen, consists of a quilt containing a coil of wire bent in the fashion of a gridiron, inclosed in insulating and nonconducting material, and imbedded in cotton, wool or other soft substance with a silk or woolen covering.

The resistance offered by the coil to the flow of an electric current through the wire produces heat in the same way that heat and eventually light are produced in the filament of the glow lamp. A uniform temperature of about 150 degrees F. is thus maintained, but in the event of the temperature rising beyond that point from increase of pressure in the electric mains a fuse instantly melts and automatically shuts off the current. The quilt may be readily attached to ordinary incandescent lamp terminals.—London Lancet.

THE PROHIBITION PARTY.

The tabulated returns of the late election show that the prohibition vote was less than 10,000 in Wisconsin as against some 14,000 in 1892. Similar results are noted from other states indicating that the party has passed the zenith of its popularity, and that corrected judgment is replacing the dictates of perverted conscience in the minds of many third party adherents. The failure of the movement is significant, because of the fact, that many of its leaders were clergymen and religious teachers, men who claimed that the party was a necessity to meet the demands of conscience. The sincerity of the claim is not questioned, but the lack of good judgment has always been deplored by a large majority of pulpit and pew representatives.

These over zealous enthusiasts seem to have forgotten the fact that this nation above all others, was founded on religious truth, and that from the laying of the corner stone by the little Mayflower band down to the year of our Lord 1894, the religion of the early fathers has been nourished and perpetuated until the nation stands out in bold relief as the brightest exponent of christianity that the world has ever seen.

Factors in this development are the creeds and usages of every nationality whose representatives have come to us by the thousands, because of the broad invitation and hearty welcome extended.

Freedom of thought and expression have characterized the policy of government, and out of this mixed conglomeration the church has wrought a temple strong in character, symmetrical in proportion, and enduring as time.

The Rev. Mr. Halsey in speaking of cities at Court Street church, last Sunday evening said that some good people are always deploring the wickedness of great centers of population, and Chicago was frequently cited, as the wickedest city in the land. He wanted to say to these good people that Chicago built over one hundred churches last year, and that christianity, ever on the alert, was never more active than now.

This tells the whole story, and every close observer of national development will admit that parallel with the great tide of intemperance and evil, flows the pure and powerful current that makes for right and righteousness.

The advocates of third party prohibition will accomplish more by working in harmony with the great tide of moral sentiment. Many of them already realize this fact, and the republican party welcomes them back with hearty good wishes.

If in the fullness of time the moral and religious sentiment of the country demand national prohibition, the republican party will not be slow to recognize the fact. Until that time local option, which is practical prohibition, should satisfy the demands of temperance people.

Much is being said about the proposed $50,000,000 bond issue that is about to be placed to relieve the public treasury, and all sorts of theories are advanced concerning it.

The democratic press and friends of the administration are making an effort to smooth over the necessities of the case, by claiming that the president has an ambition to keep the gold reserve at $100,000,000, a laudable ambition that no man can question, but what is the matter with the gold reserve, and why has it gradually dwindled away for the past twelve months. Simply because the tariff tinkers through tardy and unwise legislation, placed an embargo on the income of the government, from which it will not specially recover. Two years more of this sort of nonsense and a direct tax upon every tax payer in the land would have been necessary.

If the tariff is a tax, it is infinitely better than doing business on borrowed capital. The man who finds steady employment and good wages the year round can afford to pay his proportion of duty on pig iron, a great deal better than he can afford to sit around six months in idleness for the sake of having pig iron and a few other things on the free list.

Governor Waite, of Colorado, was called to account by members of his own political household, at the executive mansion at Denver, last Sunday. Congressman Pence acted as spokesman for the party, and suggested to the erratic governor that the People's party has no use for long-haired specimens of his class, and advised him to lose no time after January first, in hieing away to the wilderness where he belonged.

It is gratifying to note that Chairman Wilson takes defeat so philosophically. He does not regard his defeat as a rebuke to free trade principles and believes that someday democracy will win on the same issue that resulted so disastrously in the late campaign.

Herr Most, the notorious apostle of anarchy, was permitted to make one of his red flag speeches in Chicago Sunday. It is gratifying to note that his followers are divided in sentiment, and that anarchy and socialism are losing ground on American soil.

Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier, writes a characteristic editorial on the late defeat of his party, in which he expresses an earnest desire to "pass on." There are a good many democrats just now who fail to find much comfort in retrospection.

TALMAGE'S SUBJECT IS "HOME AGAIN"

DR. TALMAGE'S RETURN FOR A SERMON TEXT.

The Text Being Chosen from Luke 15, xliii: "Bring Hither the Fatted Calf and Kill It"—A Touching Discourse on the Vicissitudes of Life.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, having concluded his round-the-world tour, has selected as the subject for to-day's discourse through the press: "Home Again."

In all ages of the world it has been customary to celebrate joyful events by festivity—the signing of treaties, the proclamation of peace, the Christmas, the marriage. However much on other days of the year our table may have stinted supply, on Thanksgiving day there must be something bounteous. And all the comfortable homes of Christendom have at some time celebrated joyful events by banquet and festivity.

Something has happened in the old homestead greater than anything that has ever happened before. A favorite son, whom the world supposed would become a vagabond and outlaw forever, has got tired of sightseeing and has returned to his father's house. The world said he never would come back. The old man always said his son would come. He had been looking for him day after day and year after year. He knew he would come back. Now, having returned to his father's house, the father proclaims celebration. There is a calf in the paddock that has been kept up and fed to utmost capacity, so as to be ready for some occasion of joy that might come along. Ah! there never will be a grander day on the old homestead than this day. Let the butchers do their work, and let the housekeepers bring into the table the smoking meat. The musicians will take their places, and the gay groups will move up and down the floor. All the friends and neighbors are gathered in, and extra supply is sent out to the table of the servants. The father presides at the table and says grace, and thanks God that his long absent boy is home again. Oh! how they missed him; how glad they are to have him back. One brother indeed stands putting at the back door, and says: "This is a great day about nothing; this bad boy should have been chastened instead of greeted; he is too good for him!" But the father says, "Nothing is too good; nothing is good enough." There sits the young man, glad at the hearty reception, but a shadow of sorrow flitting across his brow at the remembrance of the trouble he had seen. All ready now. Let the covers lift. Music. He was dead and he is alive again! He was lost and he is found! By such bold imagery does the Bible set forth the merry-making when a soul comes home to God.

First of all, there is the new convert's joy. It is no tame thing to become a Christian. The most tremendous moment in a man's life is when he surrenders himself to God. The grandest time on the father's homestead is when the boy comes back. Among the great throng who, in the parlors of my church, professed Christ one night was a young man, who next morning rang my doorbell and said: "Sir, I feel not contain myself with the joy I feel; I came here this morning to express it. I have found more joy in five minutes in serving God than in all the years of my prodigality, and I came to say so."

You have seen, perhaps, a man running for his physical liberty, and the officers of the law after him; and you saw him escape or afterward you heard the judge had pardoned him, and how great was the glee of that rescued man; but it is a very tame thing that compared with the running for one's everlasting life—the terrors of the law after him, and Christ coming in to pardon and bless and rescue and save. You remember John Bunyan, in his great story, tells how the Pilgrim put his fingers to his ears and ran, crying, "Life, life, eternal life!" A poor car driver, after having had to struggle to support his family for years, suddenly was informed that a large inheritance was his, and there was joy amounting to bewilderment; but that is a small thing compared with the experience of one when he has put in his hands the title deed to the joys, the raptures, the splendors of heaven, and he can truly say, "His mansions are mine, its temples are mine, its songs are mine, its God is mine!"

Oh, it is no tame thing to become a Christian. It is a merry-making. It is the killing of the fatted calf. It is jubilee. You know the Bible never compares it to a funeral, but always compares it to something bright. It is more apt to be compared to a banquet than anything else. It is compared in the Bible to the water—bright, flashing water; to the morning—rosate, firework, mountain transfigured morning. I wish I could to-day take all the Bible expressions about pardon and peace, and life and comfort, and hope and heaven, and twist them into one garland, and put it on the brow of the humblest child of God in all this land and cry: "Wear it, wear it now, wear it forever, son of God, daughter of the Lord God Almighty. Oh, the joy of the new convert! Oh, the gladness of the Christian service!"

You have seen sometimes a man in a religious assembly get up and give his experience. Well, Paul gave his experience. He rose in the presence of two churches—the church on earth and the church in heaven—and he said "Now, this is my experience: 'sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; poor, yet making many rich; having nothing, yet possessing all things.'" If all the people who read this sermon knew the joys of the Christian religion, they would all pass over into the kingdom of God the next moment. When Daniel Sandeman was dying of cholera, his attendant said: "Have you much pain?" "Oh," he replied, "since I found the Lord I have never had any pain except sin." Then they said to him: "Would you like to send a message to your friends?" "Yes, I would; tell them that only last night the love of Jesus came rushing into my soul like the surges of the sea, and I had to cry out, 'Stop, Lord; it is enough! Stop, Lord—enough!' Oh, the joys of this Christian religion!"

Just pass over from those tame joys in which you are indulging—joys of this world—into the raptures of the gospel. The world can not satisfy you; you have found out—Alexander, long for other worlds to conquer, and yet drowned in his own bottle; Byron, whipped by disquietudes around the world; Voltaire, cursing his own soul while all the streets of Paris were applauding him; Henry II., consuming with hatred against poor Thomas a-Becket—all illustrations of the fact that this world can not make a man happy. The very man who poisoned the pommel of the saddle on which Queen Elizabeth rode, shouted in the street, "God save the queen!" One moment the world applauds, and the next moment the world anathematizes. Oh, come over into this greater joy, this sublime solace, this magnificent beatitude. The night after the battle of Shiloh, there were thousands of wounded on the field, and the ambulances had not come, one Christian soldier, lying there a dying under the starlight, began to sing:

There is a land of pure delight,
And when he came to the next line there were scores of voices uniting:

Where saints immortal reign.
The song was caught up all over the field among the wounded, until it was said there were at least ten thousand wounded men uniting their voices as they came to the verse:

There everlasting spring abides,
And never withering flowers;
Death like a narrow stream divides,
That heavenly land from ours.

Oh, it is a great religion to live by, and it is a great religion to die by. There is only one heart throb between you and that religion this moment. Just look into the face of your pardoning God, and surrender yourself for time and for eternity, and he is yours, and heaven is yours, and all is yours. Some of you, like the young man of the text, have gone far astray. I know not the history, but you know it—you know it.

When a young man went forth into life, the legend says, his guardian angel went forth with him, and getting him into a field, the guardian angel swept a circle clear around where the young man stood. It was a circle of virtue and honor, and he must step beyond that circle. Armed foes came down, but were obliged to halt at the circle—they could not pass. But one day a temptress, with diamonded hand, stretched forth and crossed that circle with the hand, and the tempted soul took it, and by that one fell grip was brought beyond the circle, and died. Some of you have stepped beyond that circle. Would you not like this day, by the grace of God, to step back? This, I say to you, is your hour of salvation. There was in the closing hours of Queen Anne what is called the clock scene. Flat down on the pillow in helpless sickness, she could not move her head or move her hand. She was waiting for the hour when the ministers of state should gather in angry contest; and worried and worn out by the coming hour, and in momentary absence of the nurse, in the power—the strange power which delirium sometimes gives one—she arose and stood in front of the clock, and stood there watching the clock when the nurse returned. The nurse said, "Do you see anything peculiar about that clock?" She made no answer, but soon died. There is a clock scene in every history. If some of you would rise from the bed of lethargy and come out of your delirium of sin, and look on the clock of your destiny this moment, you would see and hear something you have not seen or heard before, and every tick of the minute, and every stroke of the hour, and every swing of the pendulum would say: "Now, now, now, now!" Oh, come home to your Father's house. Come home, oh, prodigal, from the wilderness. Come home, come home!

You remember reading the story of a king, who on some great day of festivity scattered silver and gold among the people, who sent valuable presents to his courtiers; but methinks when a soul comes back, God is so glad that to express his joy he flings out new worlds into space, kindles up new suns, and rolls among the white robes anthems of the redeemed a greater hallelujah, while with a voice that reverberates among the mountains of frankincense and is echoed back from the everlasting gates, he cries: "This, my son, was dead and is alive again!"

At the opening of the exposition in New Orleans, I saw a Mexican flutist, and he played the solo, and then afterward the eight or ten bands of music, accompanied by the great organ, came in; but the sound of that one flute as compared with all the orchestra, was greater than all the combined joy of the universe, when compared with the resounding heart of Almighty God.

For ten years, a father went three times a day to the depot. His son went off in aggravating circumstances; but the father said, "He will come back." The strain was too much, and his mind parted; and three times a day the father went. In the early morning, he watched the train—its arrival, and then the departure of the train. At noon he was there again, watching the advance of the train, watching the departure. At night, there again, watching the coming, watching the going, for ten years. He was sure his son would come back. God has been watching and waiting for some of you, my brothers, ten years, twenty years, thirty years, forty years, perhaps fifty years—waiting, waiting, watching, watching; and if this morning the prodigal should come home, what a scene of gladness and festivity, and how the great Father's heart would rejoice at your coming home. You will come, some of you, will you not? You will! you will!

We are in sympathy with all innocent hilarities. We can enjoy a hearty song and we can be merry with the merriest; but those of us who have toiled in the service are ready to testify that all these joys are tame in comparison with the satisfaction of seeing men enter the kingdom of God. The great eras of every minister are the outpourings of the Holy Ghost, and I thank God I have seen twenty of them. Thank God, thank God!

I notice also when the prodigal comes back all Christians rejoice. If you stood on a promontory and there was a hurricane at sea, and it was blowing toward the shore, and a vessel crashed into the rocks and you saw people get ashore in the life boats and the very last man got on the rocks in safety, you could not control your joy. And it is a glad time when the church of God sees men who are tossed on the ocean of their sins plant their feet on the rock of Christ Jesus.

When prodigals come home just hear those Christians sing. It is not a dull tune you hear at such times. Just hear those Christians pray. It is not a stereotyped supplication we have heard over and over again for twenty years, but a putting of the case in the hands of God with an importunate pleading. Men never pray at great length unless they have nothing to say and their hearts are hard and cold. All the prayers in the Bible that were answered were short prayers: "God be merciful to me a sinner." "Lord, that I may receive my sight." "Lord, save me or I perish." The longest prayer, Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the temple, less than eight minutes in length, according to the ordinary rate of enunciation. And just hear them pray now that the prodigals are coming home. Just see them shake hands. No putting forth of the four tips of the fingers in a formal way, but a hearty grasp, where the muscles of the hand seem to clench the fingers of one hand around the other hand. And then see those Christian faces, how illumined they are. And see that old man get up and with the same voice that he sang fifty years ago in the old country meeting house, say, "Now, Lord, lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen thy salvation."

There was a man of Keith who was hurled into prison in time of persecution, and one day he got off his shackles and he came and stood by the prison door, and when the jailer was opening the door, with one stroke he struck down the man who incarcerated him. Passing along the streets of London he wondered where his family was. He did not dare to ask lest he excite suspicion, but, passing along a little way from the prison, he saw a Keith tankard, a cup that belonged to the family from generation to generation—he saw it in a window. His family, hoping that some day he would get clear, came and lived as near as they could to the prison and they set that Keith tankard in the window, hoping he would see it; and he came along and saw it, and he knocked at the door, and went in, and the long absent family were all together again. Oh, if you would start for the kingdom of God to-day, I think some of you would find nearly all your friends and nearly all your family around the holy tankard of the holy communion—fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters around that sacred tankard which commemorates the love of Jesus Christ our Lord. Oh, it will be a great communion day when your whole family sits around the sacred tankard. One on earth, one in heaven.

Once more I remark, that when the prodigal gets back the inhabitants of heaven keep festival. I am very certain of it. If you have never seen a telegraphic chart, you have no idea how many cities are connected together and how many lands. Nearly all the neighborhoods of the earth seem reticulated, and news flies from city to city, and from continent to continent. But more rapidly go the tidings from earth to heaven, and when a prodigal returns it is announced before the throne of God. And if these souls to-day should enter the kingdom there would be some one in the heavenly kingdom to say: "That's my father," "That's my mother," "That's my son," "That's my daughter," "That's my friend." "That's the one I used to pray for," "That's the one for whom I wept so many tears," and one soul would say, "Hosanna!" and another would say, "Hallelujah!"

Pleased with the news the saints below In songs their tongues employ;
Beyond the skies the tidings go,
And heaven is filled with joy.

Nor angels can their joy contain,
But kindle with new fire;
And strike the sounding lyre.

At the banquet of Lucullus sat Cicero the orator. At the Macedonian festival sat Philip the conqueror. At the Grecian banquet sat Socrates the philosopher; but at our father's table sit all the returned prodigals, more than conquerors. The table is so wide its leaves reach across the seas and across lands. Its guests are the redeemed of earth and the glorified of heaven. The ring of God's forgiveness on every hand, the robe of a Saviour's righteousness a droop from every shoulder. The wine that glows in the cups is from the bowels of ten thousand sacraments. Let all the redeemed of earth and all the glorified of heaven rise, and with gleaming chalice drink to the return of a thousand prodigals. Sing! sing! sing! worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive blessing and riches and honor and glory and power, world without end!"

We Pay $10 Each for Ideas

We need TWENTY or MORE original and striking designs for Newspaper Advertisements of SAFA'S CLAUD SOAP. The manufacturer, K. Fairbank Company, will pay TEN DOLLARS EACH for approved drawings with appropriate reading; or $5.00 each for designs or reading matter only. This offer is open to all. The competition will close December 1. As soon as possible after that date we will pay for accepted designs and return the others. Remember, for complete, acceptable advertisements we pay.

Directions.—Make drawings with black ink on heavy white paper, or card board. Do the work in outline. Elaborate shading will not print well. Space in papers will be four inches square. Draw to larger scale if you prefer, but have design square. The idea is most important. If that is good we can have it redrawn and still give you credit. Avoid poetry. Get up an ad. that would make you buy the article.

Points.—Safa's Soap is a pure, high-grade Soap—made for laundry and general household use—a favorite wherever known. Merits generous praise. Sold by all grocers, wholesale and retail.

Do your best, and send results promptly. Address (only)

Warning to Expectant MOTHERS.
Many internal remedies are being skillfully and cleverly advertised, professing to shorten Labor, Lessen Pains of Child-birth, etc., and with wonderful inconsistency to regulate menstruation. Common sense should teach any woman that a preparation adapted for MENSTRUAL DISORDERS will not prepare the system for Child-birth on the contrary, internal remedies at this time imperil her life. We earnestly say BEWARE of all such; they cannot, at this critical period, do any possible good, and their use may prove fatal. It is only by persistent EXTERNAL treatment while enacting, thus relaxing and softening all the parts, that the hour of Child-birth is robbed of its terror; and no remedy on earth does this but "MOTHER'S FRIEND." WE WANT TO TELL YOU SOMETHING!

That you ought to know and probably do know. Dun's commercial reports show it and the prices bear out the fact. Dry Goods in all lines have decreased in value 25 per cent within a year.

Now bearing the above statement in mind we ask you to consider:

First—You who know us; know that we always have been careful, conservative buyers. We have never plunged in over buying and heavily overloaded our stock with goods to carry year after year and lose money on.

Second—When this great slump in prices came it did not find us with a great big pile of merchandise, bought one, two, or three years ago, that had to be worked off onto the people.

Third—Being in the best of positions to take advantage of this remarkable decline in prices, we have added to our stock within the past 90 days over $50,000 worth of splendid dry goods bargains.

With this large, NEW STOCK of goods we are in position to sell hundreds of items at prices less than they cost some dealers, and still afford us a fair margin.

REASON THIS OUT WITH YOUR OWN GOOD COMMON SENSE

Then read our prices that we come right out with, fair and square, no dodging, and then consider our extraordinary efforts to gain your patronage.

We Will Sell.

Lucky Lawyer.
An Austin lawyer caught a tramp in his office stealing some law books, which the latter intended to pawn. Seizing the intruder by the collar, the lawyer exclaimed:
"You scoundrel, I'll have you tried and sent to the penitentiary."
"Let go my neck, colonel. If you are going to have me tried, I reckon I had better engage you as my lawyer, as you have the luck to be on hand."—Alas Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

A Disputed Case.
Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that most cases can be cured, while others cannot. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this. Professor Birkholz, the world-renowned German specialist of the Masonic Temple, Chicago, where those who desire a good head of hair or beard can consult him in private, and free of charge. After a thorough examination, which costs you nothing, we will tell you whether or not you may procure that trait of personal adornment so necessary to your existence, and if we find that the follicles are not all dead, we will treat you and guarantee the results or ask no pay. A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:
"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.
These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

ADORED BY NAPOLEON.

Mlle. Georges, the favorite of the "Little Corporal." Still Survives.

The name of Mlle. Georges was mentioned for the last time in 1867. She was supposed to be dead, and yet it appears that she is alive yet near the very place where he was born in 1787. Her right name is Marguerite Josephine Wemmer. She went on the stage when 5 years old, and followed the old Napoleon through all his campaigns. In 1808 she was the most brilliant actress of the French comedy, and with Talma, the great tragedian, she played, at the request of her imperial lover, before an audience of kings at Dresden. "You shall appear before an audience of crowned heads," said Napoleon, "if I have to declare war against the whole of Europe. And he kept his word.

Alexander, the czar of Russia, wanted her to go to Moscow, his capital, with him. She answered that Bonaparte, the Corsican, was good enough for her, and truly she accompanied him during the disastrous campaign of Russia. Not a word was heard from her after the fall of the first empire, and lately she was reported living near Bayeux, Orne, her place of birth. She is 107 years old, and apparently satisfied with the obscure life she has been leading during more than a half century. The only souvenir she has kept of her glorious past is the hat worn by Napoleon in the celebrated days of June 12 and 13, 1795, when the French consul received the convention from the hands of the revolutionary parties led by Robespierre. Mlle. Georges is very religious, and no one who can see her going to the church every Sunday could suspect that she has been the mistress of Napoleon.

MADEMOISELLE GEORGES AT 30.

The palace of the Grand Duke Nicholas, the czar's uncle, has been taken for the use of the institute; 400,000 rubles are given at once for the equipment, and a large sum is to be appropriated yearly for the support of the pupils.

THE LIFE OF A MISSIONARY.

Was Chosen by a Bright Young Woman from Johnstown, Pa.

Dr. Bertha Caldwell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Caldwell of Stonycreek street left Johnstown, Pa., recently for Philadelphia, Trenton and New York. She boarded the steamer Anchoria for London, from which she and a party of sixteen missionaries sailed for India. Dr. Caldwell's destination being Allahabad. public school in that city, graduating in 1885, after which she entered the Indiana State Normal, where she graduated with high honors two years later. In 1887 she was appointed a missionary to the state of Idaho, where she taught school for three years. Returning to Williamsport in 1890, she commenced the study of medicine. She has the honor of being a member of the first class of women admitted to the medical halls of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Caldwell served as assistant to Dr. Adamson in 1893-94 in the nose, throat and ear department of the Woman's hospital, Philadelphia.

The Sutherland Sanitarium.

Corner North Main and North First Streets, Janesville, Wis.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have secured a new building formerly known as the Windsor Hotel and shall run it as a First Class Sanitarium and Private Hospital. It is established with a view of giving patients all the comforts of a home together with the convenience and cuisine of a first-class invalids hotel.

While special attention will be given to Medical and Surgical Diseases of Women And Diseases of the Bowels.

All forms of Surgery will be done and all forms of

Nervous and Medical Diseases

will be treated. The department of Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose and the treatment of Catarrh will be under the charge of a competent specialist. A new feature of our Sanitarium will be the treatment of Rupture without loss of time or the use of the knife. A suite of rooms have been fitted up for the treatment of all forms of Private and Nervous Troubles with Electricity, Massage and Turkish baths.

A competent corps of Trained Nurses and everything will be run in first class style. Charges moderate.

COLD FEET!

Perhaps you are not quite willing to harness your feet into rubbers. Still, isn't the old adage to "keep the head cool and the feet dry" good horse sense; and aren't the twin propositions conservators to good health?

When Men's Lace or Congress Shoes, Genuine Cork Soles, Genuine Calf Skin will keep your feet warm, isn't it prudent to spend $2.50 for a pair and have 'em handy.
